

Workshop on ‘Qualitative Methods in Health Research’ for the faculty members of AIIMS Kalyani on 4th and 5th of May, 2022

Medical Education Unit of AIIMS Kalyani has successfully organised a two-day workshop on ‘Qualitative Methods in Health Research’ on 4th and 5th of May, 2022. The objectives of this workshop were to attain the basic knowledge of qualitative research methods, acquire basic skills in qualitative data collection, analysis and scientific reporting and also to know the ethical issues in qualitative research. Esteemed experts in the field, Dr. GVS Murthy, (Director, IIPH, Hyderabad), Dr. Pradeep Deshmukh (Professor and Head, department of CMFM, AIIMS Nagpur) and Dr. Amol Dongre (Professor and Head, department of extension program, Pramukhswami Medical College, Karamsad, Gujarat) were the resource persons. Thirty-one faculty members of AIIMS Kalyani actively participated in the workshop and learned the basics of qualitative methods in health research with hands-on experience. The participants also received an autographed book on Qualitative Research Methods, authored by resource persons. This workshop is in series of academic events organised by our institute in commemoration of 75 years of Independence.

